To,

Primary School Parents (Grade 1-Grade 7)

Dear Parents,

Ref: Revised School Timings

Here's wishing you a restful weekend and your children all the very best as they take the mock examinations on Monday. We have been reviewing concepts with them as part of the revision week and encouraging them to practice areas that they are not confident about again at home. With these mock tests, we are sure they will gain more confidence as they approach their end of the year examinations.

In view of the warm weather approaching, and as a 'trial' period from Monday, March 2nd to Monday, March 16th, we have decided to revise the school timings, and the students will leave 15 minutes earlier their usual departure time every day.

This revision in timing will only impact the 'zero' period dedicated to co-curriculars, and also as part of the trial period, with each grade, we will have multiple activities instead of one to make the zero period more effective and exciting for the students.

We also request your permission to work with some students during the zero period, in case they have doubts or queries as a lead up to examinations. We hope that their queries are addressed by us and often during school hours this may not be possible. This will be need basis and we hope you will be comfortable with this strategy.

Thank you for your cooperation in advance and a reminder to have your children fetched from school or the bus stop earlier - 15 minutes earlier the school will end, so plan your pick up accordingly.

Yours truly,

The Management
