Dear Parents,

Greetings!

As you are aware, we have spent our summer break researching different platforms, skilling our teachers to ensure that our virtual school has time-tested strategies in place.

We have also circulated a survey form to understand your IT capabilities at home and also, infrastructure available.

Teachers training and planning, are extremely comfortable using zoom with all its security protocols in place but our test runs with children have indicated to us that a more constructive way to initiate the teaching-learning at SVM will be using Google Meets. We are therefore sharing a tutorial video for your ready reference to understand the necessary steps to download and its usage (Tutorial Video Link- <https://youtu.be/GKuBq6AlcVQ>). We also encourage you to 'test-run' within the family to get familiar and do reach out should you have any questions at all.

We thank you for your support and patience and look forward to continued communication with you as we embrace a new normal.

Virtually and when possible in the physical world, we are excited about the new academic year commencing.

Cannot wait to engage with the students regularly!

Yours truly,

The SVM Team
